

English 3 Honors Syllabus

Course Details

Course Code: 302600HW

Subject: English

Required Prerequisites: Students will have successfully completed English 2

Suggested Prerequisites: Successful completion of honors level English courses or teacher recommendation.

Recommended Grade Levels: 11th

Duration: Semester

Course Availability: A listing of when this course is offered in the current school year can be found on the VirtualSC Current Course Offerings page \(opens in a new window\).

Class Times: This course has scheduled instructional meetings. Information on scheduled meetings for each course is communicated by the teacher. Recordings of these meetings will be available for students unable to attend. Students should expect to spend 7-9 hours a week working on this course independently, in addition to any live meetings, and are expected to meet the deadlines posted in the course pacing guide.

Textbook: All course materials are included in the course and no outside textbook is required. Students will be required to select one novel from a specified list to use in the second half of the course.

Required Course Materials: None

Outside Websites: A list of links to websites and online textbooks used in this course can be found here: VirtualSC Course Links Document Folder \(opens in a new window\). Students will need to be able to access all these links to view all course materials.

Final Exam: Students in this course take a VirtualSC final exam. Details on scheduling and taking final exams can be found on the Final Exam Page \(opens in a new window\) of the VirtualSC webpage.

Course Description

English 3 Honors will improve your reading, writing, and communication skills as you prepare to enter the workforce, study a trade, or attend college. Because you will read complex fiction and nonfiction texts from diverse voices connected to American history and culture, English 3 Honors will help you consider the perspectives of others from a variety of backgrounds and experiences, a skill necessary for any path you choose in life. This course will give you the opportunity to make connections between texts and real-world experiences, write about texts and topics related to them, and discuss their themes with others. It will allow you to strengthen your ability to think independently about and use information to make logical decisions and present your ideas and solutions in ways that make others take notice. Simply put, this course will help you be a successful communicator long after you have finished high school.

In this course, you will consider perspectives in and about America, voices of select Americans, the human experience in America, and challenges facing the nation as you:

- read and analyze complex literature and nonfiction texts.
- write analyses, arguments, and expository pieces about topics that interest you.
- independently judge sources for accuracy and cohesion and back up your claims with credible evidence.
- research a topic related to a specific challenge facing Americans.
- present an argument based on your research that proposes a solution to an American challenge.
- make choices about what you read and how you complete assignments.
- proofread and revise your writing.
- communicate fluently with your classmates about fiction, historical events, and contemporary issues.

The curriculum used in this course is guided by the South Carolina College and Career Ready Standards (opens in a new window)

Scope and Sequence

- Course Overview & Introduction
- Unit 1: Direct and Implied Literary Interpretations
- Unit 2: The Fiction Writer's Perspective and Purpose
- Unit 3: Text Features and Structures
- Unit 4: The Nonfiction Writer's Point of View and Purpose
- Unit 5: Research and Claims
- Unit 6: Research and Argument

- Unit 7: Novel Study

Students will be sent a full list of assignments and their due dates at the beginning of the course.

Current pacing guides for this course can be found on the Current Course Offerings page \(opens in a new window\) on the VirtualSC website.

Course Grades

Each unit in this course counts equally (approximately 14.3% each) towards your coursework grade.

The final grade in this course results from the following:

- ✎ Coursework: 80%
- ✎ Final Project: 10%
- ✎ Final Exam: 10%

Each unit in this course counts 14.3% towards your coursework grade.

VirtualSC Details

Information on VirtualSC student guidelines, policies and technology requirements can be found in the VirtualSC Student Support Portal \(opens in a new window\).